A Research Trip to Dublin, Ireland

11 - 17 October 2020
Sunday thru Saturday
(7 Nights)

$100 Early-bird discount for researchers who sign up
by 31 March 2020

Space Limited to 15 Researchers
So Register Early!

Attention Serious Researchers!

Celtic Quest, LLC, has organized a unique research opportunity for serious and experienced researchers. It is required that you have at least identified the county of origin of your ancestor. To devote sufficient time to each researcher in Ireland, the trip is limited to the first 15 registrants who send the deposit.

After registration, your trip director will send you a Research Objective Form to be completed and returned. It is critical that you be as complete as possible—especially in specifying a detailed source citation for each question. Please take the time to prepare up to 2 research objectives for review by your trip director. Then, to help make your valuable research time in Ireland more productive, and to help you determine which research facilities will be most beneficial, you will receive up to 3 hours of pre-trip telephone consultation (can be multiple sessions) with your trip director.

Arrive Dublin on Sunday, 11 October and get your rest. Monday you hit the ground running. You will be introduced to the major Dublin research repositories, their records, and which facilities best fit your needs. Throughout the week, your trip director will be onsite to assist you.

You may move freely between research sites as your discoveries take you to new records. On some evenings you can optionally consult with your trip director to discuss and reevaluate your research objectives.

We can try to assist you if you wish to share a room with another researcher. Prices are per-person, double occupancy. Limited single rooms are available at a higher cost. Non-researching companions are also welcome. See the registration form for fees.

Registrants should expect to walk between repositories and the hotel (1–8 blocks). Bring comfortable walking shoes and rain gear. If you prefer, taxis are available for hire. Registrants also need to arrange transportation to and from Dublin, and between the airport and the hotel.

Buswell's Hotel

The trip hotel, Buswell's, on Molesworth Street in Dublin, is directly across the street from the National Library in the quiet business section of Dublin.

Trip Inclusions for Researchers

Meet Your Trip Directors

Richard M. Doherty is a professional genealogist, author and lecturer with more than 45 years of experience and 39 research trips to Ireland. He has lectured on Irish genealogy since 1982 in the U.S., Canada and Ireland, including two Irish Genealogical Congresses held at Trinity College in Dublin, and Maynooth College in Co. Kildare; and at the Back To Our Past exhibition in Dublin. Dick is a past-president of the Irish Genealogical Society of Michigan, Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, and Oakland County Genealogical Society.

William T. Ruddock describes his love of genealogy as an avocation. He is a lecturer, and author with over 35 years of experience. He is past editor of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research Magazine and is currently a contributing editor to the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record. His paternal grandfather was 100% Irish and this led Mr. Ruddock to become a serious researcher in Irish Genealogy.

General Register Office

Werburgh Street, Dublin 2.

<http://www.welfare.ie/en/Pages/GRO_Research.aspx>

The GRO includes registrations for births, marriages, and deaths beginning on 1 January 1864 (non-Catholic marriages were recorded beginning 1 January 1845). Certificates are available at the GRO. Indexes can be searched 9:00 am–4:30 pm Monday–Friday. There are fees for both searching and obtaining photocopies and certificates. The GRO holds post-1922 vital records for the 26 counties of the Republic of Ireland. 8 Blocks.

National Archives of Ireland

Bishop Street

<<http://www.nationalarchives.ie/>>

In June 1988, the Public Record Office of Ireland and the State Paper Office were joined to form the National Archives.

The reading room at the headquarters is open to holders of a current Reader's Ticket. The reading room is open 10 am–5 pm, Monday–Friday, except holidays. 7 Blocks.

National Library of Ireland

Kildare Street

<<http://www.nli.ie/>>

The National Library of Ireland was established in 1877. The Genealogical Office, which originated in 1552 as the Office of Arms, has been part of the National Library since 1943. There are close to a million books and extensive collections of newspapers, manuscripts, photographs, maps, and prints in the library. The collections are accessible free of charge to holders of a current Library Reader's ticket. The main reading room is open 9:30 am–7:45pm, Monday–Wednesday, 9:30am–4:45pm Thursday–Friday, and 9:30am–12:45pm Saturday. 1/2 Block.

Registry of Deeds

King's Inns, Henrietta Street

<<https://www.prai.ie/registry-of-deeds-services/#records>>

The function of the Registry of Deeds is to provide a system for recording the existence of deeds and conveyances affecting "unregistered" land, i.e. land and property, the title to which is not registered in the Land Registry. The indexes and many of the records are on microfilm. The Registry is open 10 am–4:30 pm Monday–Friday. Records of interest to genealogists include registered deeds from 1708 and wills 1708–1832. Taxi Ride.

Representative Church Body Library

Braemor Park, Churchtown

<<https://www.ireland.anglican.org/about/genealogy>>

The Representative Church Body Library is the Church of Ireland's principal repository for its archives and manuscripts. The reading room is open 9:30 am–1 pm and 2 pm to 5 pm Monday–Thursday. The Library holds records from more than 800 parishes in the Republic of Ireland. Bus or Taxi Ride.

Valuation Office of Ireland

Irish Life Center, Abbey Street Lower

<<http://www.valoff.ie/en/archive-research/genealogy>>

The Valuation Office is a favorite research facility of Celtic Quest registrants. This office is open 9:15 am–4:30 pm Monday–Friday. The Revision (or Cancelled) Books are invaluable. A scanned copy of the original series of Valuation maps that correspond to Griffith's Primary Valuation are available for Republic of Ireland research, and copies can be purchased. 8 Blocks.
